

REAL. TEXAS. SERVICE. CHAMPION

Truman Richardson, Information Technology

Truman serves as a Database Applications Analyst in the Information Technology Department. He creates custom reports for various departments. He listens closely as staff describes the challenge they are experiencing and typically develops a solution even before the conversation has ended.

Truman's work ethic and friendly demeanor make him an ideal team player. Staff from other departments are comfortable reaching out to him and working in partnership to make City services more efficient. He has already researched numerous processes that were once manual and replaced them with automated abilities to provide consistent and accurate results.

He is critical to the success of the IT Department and the operations of the City organization.
